Description

Provide a short description of the event and its activities.

The objective of WP1 is to create, develop and launch an online platform for joint collaboration, coordination, and mutual benefit of the Network members and to introduce and train the end users on the functionalities of the dedicated online tool developed within the project.

To achieve this objective, the University of Latvia as the lead partner of the CAMINO project identified the specific needs and requirements of the project partners and possible future network, designed and launched the network platform “Universities4culture.eu”. The platform is developed based on the University of Latvia website development and maintenances principles and is maintained by the UL IT experts to ensure its sustainability and functionality also beyond the CAMINO project lifespan. All the partners have designated team members who will be responsible for providing content to the platform and will be able to edit the information on the platform. This will provide role-based access control to ensure that appropriate permissions and restrictions are in place to protect sensitive information and manage user privileges. The University of Latvia will organise training for the partners’ team members who will act as the content administrators of the network platform.

The presentation of the network platform “Universities4culture.eu” was organised via MS Teams on 10 June 2024. The audience of the event included staff members, students, professors, representatives of artistic groups of the partners, as well as other persons interested in cultural cooperation among universities. The programme of the platform presentation event included an overview of the CAMINO project and its activities and a detailed introduction to the platform’s features and possibilities, as well as a question and answer session. Currently, the platform comprises only the project partner universities, but new partners are welcome to join it in the future. Admittance of new partners is open to all potential partners and is not restricted only to European Union countries. The network platform will be used also for dissemination of information about the CAMINO project and its activities to ensure reaching out to a broader public.

Altogether 145 participants from 8 EU countries and 1 non-EU country attended the online presentation event, thus the two core criteria for this WP, i.e., the number of participants and the number of countries, were fully met.
